

WE'VE GOT FALL BOOKED

OUR EDITORS PICK THE PUBLISHERS' AUTUMN 2013 RELEASES THEY'RE MOST LOOKING FORWARD TO

Say what you will about today's explosion of media, there's still nothing like curling up with a brand-new book, whether you turn those pages in a traditional bound hardback or on a backlit screen. That's why Bergen Health & Life's editors took a sneak peek at the publishers' offerings for this fall, and each picked one soon-to-be-published tome they eagerly await:

» RITA GUARNA, EDITOR IN CHIEF

David Hockney: A Bigger Exhibition by David Hockney and Richard Benefield, Prestel, $75, Oct. 1

"Twenty-five summers ago, my husband and I visited the Met to see David Hockney's retrospective exhibit. I was mesmerized by Hockney's playfulness and his use of vibrant color. I'm curious to see this tome, which promises more than 200 full-color works, some from the artist's private studio, plus his iPad drawings."

» MEREDITH McBRIDE KIPP, ART DIRECTOR

Mario Buatta: Fifty Years of American Interior Decoration by Mario Buatta, Rizzoli, $75, Oct. 8

"I'll be drooling over this retrospective from a decorating legend. Trust me; you've seen his work. He made English Country House style a style and has decorated homes for Henry Ford II, Barbara Walters and Malcolm Forbes. I'm eager for the decorating insights of this respected, très chic gentleman—as well as his stories from along the way."

» CAROL BIALKOWSKI, MANAGING EDITOR

Michael Symon's 5 in 5: 5 Fresh Ingredients + 5 Minutes = 120 Fantastic Dinners, by Michael Symon and Douglas Trattner, Clarkson Potter, $20, Sept. 3

"I have a husband and two young children, I work full-time, and I love to cook. So a book that promises to help me get a delicious dinner on the table in five minutes is going to grab my attention because that's about all the time I have when I walk in the door."

» TIMOTHY KELLEY, SENIOR EDITOR

The Bully Pulpit by Doris Kearns Goodwin, Simon & Schuster, $37.50, Nov. 5

"I can't wait to see what the wise and wonderful Goodwin makes of the combustible combo of Teddy Roosevelt, William Howard Taft and the muckraking journalists of the early 20th century. Her Team of Rivals, about another president and his cabinet (basis of the hit movie Lincoln), was so good I read it twice."

» JOANNA YEUNG, ASSOCIATE EDITOR

Command and Control by Eric Schlosser, The Penguin Press, $36, Sept. 17

"The best-selling author of Fast Food Nation brings us what's billed as an eye-opening exposé of America's nuclear age. Knowing Schlosser, I expect it to be well researched, entertaining and unforgettable. Central to the book is a behind-the-scenes account of the silo accident in Arkansas in 1980, in which a missile was thrown but did not explode."

» CAITLIN MURPHY, EDITORIAL ASSISTANT

Bridget Jones: Mad About the Boy by Helen Fielding, Knopf Doubleday, $25.95, Oct. 15

"Sometimes I just need a good laugh, and Fielding's portrayal of Bridget Jones, a thirty-something singleton on a seemingly endless quest for true love and self-acceptance, never fails to entertain. It's been 14 years since the last installment of this series, and I'm eager to see how all the characters have changed."
